Welcome back to school!

We've missed you all during winter break! Hopefully, it was a time of laughter, family, and rest; a time to spend with your children and seeing them grow!

The winter celebration was a hit! After a week of silly outfits, festive wear, and crazy hair, culminating parties and events sealed the deal! All the children were excited to participate in the exchanging of gifts with their Secret Pal! The children participated in a beautiful morning of sharing, crafting, and overall silliness!

When we do special events like this, it becomes a wonderful opportunity for children to put into action things that they have been practicing and learning in their classrooms! After all, children learn through play! Silly Socks can turn into a discussion about colors and shapes, a tipping point for the comparison between your socks and a friend's socks. Exchanging gifts teaches patience and demonstrates sharing. Crazy hair inspires creativity and creative thinking!

Reminders

A couple of reminders as we get back into the swing of things,

- Please bring a blanket for your child's naptime.
- Make sure your child is wearing their mask as they enter the building.
- Please keep in contact with us about extended absences.
- Make sure your child has extra clothes (appropriate for the weather) in their cubby

COVID REMINDERS:

- If you or your child have been exposed to someone who has tested positive,
- if any member of the family has had cold/flu symptoms (fever, cough, aches, etc.),
- or if you've been out of town in the last two weeks, have your child tested before going back to school!
